

SPAIN'S NEW DADGER A FINANCIAL ONE

THE STABILITY OF ITS BANK IS DOUBTED.

Note Circulation Is Immense—The Institution is the Chief Domestic Creditor of the Government, and Its Failure Would Almost Mean National Bankruptcy.

London, Sept. 15.—Every day seems to develop new trouble for Spain. The misfortunes of the country are arousing the melancholy pity of Europe. This time financial affairs are demanding attention, especially the condition of the Bank of Spain, whose solvency appears to be doubted among bankers and financiers at Madrid. Its note circulation is immense, and as the bank is the chief domestic creditor of the government, any disarrangement of its assets would cause widespread disaster in the peninsula. The news published in the London evening papers Tuesday is that Paris exchange has reached at Madrid 31.50, the highest on record. As the Bank of Spain has lent the state 150,000,000 pesetas, repayable, without interest, in 1920, its affairs would become critical in the event of the bank incurring losses on loans in the absence of sufficient guarantee against current accounts and note circulation.

These conditions may tame the fiery partisans of the government who are howling for a conflict with the United States.

ILLINOIS LABOR MEN.

State Federation Is in Session at Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 15.—Heated discussion over fiery resolutions on the shooting down of striking miners by deputy sheriffs near Hazelton, Pa., last Friday characterized Tuesday's opening session of the State Federation of Labor. The resolutions were finally sent to a committee after a motion to strike out that portion recommending the bearing of arms by trades unionists was voted down.

"To emancipate labor it is first necessary to destroy those who enslave it." This was the keynote of the annual address of Charles J. Riefler, president of the federation. "Superficial remedies are inadequate to subdue fundamental ills," he continued. "I therefore earnestly recommend that this federation take a bold and unequivocal stand in favor of:

"1. The abolition of land monopoly by levying all taxes upon land values irrespective of improvements in lieu of all other taxes.

"2. The government ownership of railroads, telegraphs and telephones, and their operation for the convenience of the people and for their benefit.

"3. The municipal ownership and control of all those public conveniences which become a necessity by reason of the centralization of population."

Decatur is likely to secure the next convention. President Riefler will not be a candidate for re-election, and the mantle may fall upon one of three prominent candidates—M. B. Palmer of Peoria, U. G. Hinman of Springfield, or A. Catmull of Chicago.

Hinshaw Tells His Story.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 15.—The Rev. William E. Hinshaw sat before the Hendricks county grand jury for three hours Tuesday telling his story of the tragedy of Jan. 10, 1895, in which his wife lost her life. He declared with dramatic effect that he is innocent of the crime for which he is serving a life sentence. He testified that he did not know that his wife had been shot and killed until after the arrival of the neighbors, who found her on the front door in a dying condition. The jurors questioned him closely as to his relations with Baney, Van Tassel and Whitney in the penitentiary, and he declared that he had nothing to do with persuading Baney to tell the story that brought about this investigation.

Statue of Oliver P. Morton.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 15.—The commission appointed at the last state encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic to erect on the lawn of the state capitol a statue to Oliver P. Morton, Indiana's war governor, has accepted the design of J. F. F. Alexander & Son, of Lafayette. The statue is to cost $35,000. Under the design it will be fifteen feet tall and will be mounted on a base twenty-four feet high; the base to be of red granite, oval in shape. The statue will be of bronze. It was decided to ask each voting precinct in the state for $10. All the money is to be raised by popular subscription.

Knights and Ladies of Honor.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 15.—The supreme lodge of the Knights and Ladies of Honor, a national mutual benefit and protective organization, with a membership of 75,000, opened its eleventh annual meeting here on Tuesday at the Russell house, with about one hundred delegates present. During the last two years more than 1,900 of its members have died, which necessitated the collection or disbursement in round numbers of $2,360,000.

Yellow Fever Situation.

New Orleans, Sept. 15.—The books of the board of health showed the following recapitulation of Tuesday's developments in the yellow fever situation. There had been reported to the board for investigation twenty cases which the attending physicians considered suspicious. Of these, thirteen cases had been found suffering with a harmless fever, five cases were regarded as suspicious but necessary to be further investigated before a definite report could be made on them; there were no reports as to four cases, and four cases had been pronounced genuine yellow fever, though one of the latter was classed as of mild type.

Indiana Mine Is Burning.

Princeton, Ind., Sept. 15.—A disastrous fire occurred Tuesday morning at Jackson Hill coal mine, on a branch of the Evansville & Terre Haute Railroad, about five miles east of Shelbyville. Fire was discovered at 3 o'clock a. m., and before the flames could be subdued all the tippie house and other top buildings, with many coal flats used in the mine and several flat cars, were destroyed. The coal in the mine is now burning. The exact loss is not yet known, but it will reach $50,000. New buildings will be erected at once. Three hundred miners will have to remain idle for two or three months.

To Examine Suspicious Cases.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Last night's advices from the yellow fever district contained the information that Surgeon Carter reports another case of yellow fever in Scranton, Miss., against the spread of which reasonable precautions have been taken. Dr. Guiteras has been ordered to proceed to Edwards, Miss., to examine suspicious cases of sickness.

VICTIMS OF STORM BURIED IN TEXAS

PARTICULARS ABOUT THE RECENT HURRICANE.

Sabine City Is Isolated—The Rescuing Party Unable to Approach Within Seven Miles of the Town—Ten Lives Are Known To Have Been Lost at Sabine Pass.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 15.—The funeral train bearing the bodies of the victims of the Port Arthur hurricane were taken to Beaumont Tuesday afternoon, where they were interred. Every business house in that city was closed and nearly the entire population turned out and joined the cavalcade to the cemetery. None of the injured have died nor are likely to. The damage to shipping at Sabine Pass is greater than was at first thought. Two schooners laden with lumber are practically wrecks, and it will be nearly impossible to save the ship Ceres. Nothing has yet been heard of the pile-driver, with six men aboard, which evidently careened out at sea. The number of drowned, not including the above six men, was five. Two bodies were recovered this morning and three have not yet been found.

Sabine City Inaccessible.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 15.—Sabine City, Tex., is still shut out from the outer world. A party of rescuers ordered out from Beaumont, Tex., from the headquarters here reported that they had been unable to approach Sabine City nearer than seven miles, but gave no inkling of the condition of affairs there.

A telegram received over its wires from F. T. Robinson, resident engineer of the road, who was sent to Port Arthur late Monday and returned to Beaumont, Tex., Tuesday morning, after making an investigation of the situation at Port Arthur, reports six killed, three injured and about $25,000 property damage at that place. The wires to Port Arthur are also still prostrated.

At Port Arthur six bodies have been recovered. At Sabine Pass the death list numbers ten and many are missing and injured, but not seriously.

Cuba Was Considered.

Washington, Sept. 15.—There was a protracted session of the Cabinet Tuesday, and during the afternoon the president had conferences with individual members. He had a long conference with Assistant Secretary Day in the morning, and saw Secretary Sherman alone in the afternoon. They detailed to him the report made by Consul-General Lee, and he expressed the desire to see and talk with General Lee himself. This conference will be held later in the week, when Lee returns from Covington, Va., where he went to see his family.

British Troops Ready to Advance.

Simla, Sept. 15.—There are now 59,000 men and ninety guns, including maxims, mobilized on the frontier and in the garrisons. Everything is ready for the advance from Shadokdr. The men are in splendid condition. The lower Mohamands on the border are anxious to submit on any terms; but the main body is still determined to fight. It is reported that the Mullah of Hadda has failed to raise the gathering he expected and will retire to Tirah. Fort Gullistan is still hard pressed by the enemy. In a sortie the garrison succeeded in capturing three standards.

Wheat Estimate Too Large.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 15.—It is rapidly becoming apparent that the estimate of 150,000,000 bushels as the wheat crop of Minnesota and the Dakotas made recently by Col. G. D. Rodgers, secretary Minneapolis chamber of commerce, is too great by at least 20,000,000 bushels, and probably by 25,000,000 bushels. Reports sustain the position taken by H. V. Jones, statistician, who made the first estimate of the crop and fixed the probable yield at 125,000,000 bushels.

West Wisconsin Conference.

Platteville, Wis., Sept. 15.—The forty-third annual session of the West Wisconsin conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church convened in this city Tuesday. Bishop S. M. Merrill presiding. Its roll of membership, including ministers on probation, is 180, while the membership of the churches over which they preside is probably a fraction less than 25,000. The absorbing topic here is equal lay representation in its annual general conferences, the last of which meets quadrennially.

Methodist Laymen Convene.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 15.—Many laymen of the Methodist Episcopal Church are here to attend the meeting in the interest of larger lay representation in the general conference of the church. ### RIVALS OF THE BENDERS.

Many Murders Charged Against the Stafflebacks of Kansas.

Joplin, Mo., Sept. 15.—Several murders have been revealed during the Staffleback trials, that have been in progress at Columbus, Kan., for two days, and a family that surpasses the Benders in butcheries has been convicted of murder in the first degree, and will probably be lynched within the next twenty-four hours.

The Staffleback family consists of three sons, mother and step-father, and the wife of one of the sons. They were tried for the murder of Frank Galbreath last July, whom they killed and robbed, and then threw his body into an old abandoned mining shaft near by. On the trial George Staffleback broke down and confessed all, and his wife directed the officers to another old mining shaft where three other victims were thrown. One of these was a peddler whom the Stafflebacks murdered and robbed two years ago.

Two girls were living in the Staffleback house at the time, and witnessed the murder of the peddler. Two weeks later Mike and Ed Staffleback got into a quarrel with these girls, and Mike choked one of them to death. The other girl sought to defend her, when Ed Staffleback crushed her skull with his pistol. The dead girls were then wrapped in sheets and thrown under the bed until late at night, when the bodies were thrown into the shaft with that of the peddler. These ghastly sights were witnessed by George and Cora Staffleback, who told of them on the witness stand.

Warning from a Judge.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 15.—Charles M. Start, chief justice of the Supreme court of Minnesota, taking for his text the Lattimer tragedy, says that government by injunction as exemplified in the coal miners' strike, has gone too far. Family of Cashier Struble Insist He Was Murdered.

Shepard, Mich., Sept. 15.—The inquest on the death of Elmer E. Struble, cashier of the Farmers' Bank, was adjourned for one week.

The attorneys for the Struble family claim to have received letters putting them on the track of valuable information that will throw more light on the mysterious affair, and the justice has granted them this time to pursue their investigations.

No new developments turned up, except a showing of a deficiency of $629.51 in the Farmers' Bank.

The theory of suicide appears to gather strength day by day, although the family of the dead cashier persist in the declaration that he was murdered.

The representation is one vote for each 100 miners or majority fraction. Operators of Illinois are invited to meet with miners' delegates at the same place and day. The call says the attitude of eastern miners at the Columbus convention makes it apparent that the time has come for the operators and miners of Illinois to get together for mutual interests. On behalf of miners we will say we are desirous of arranging a uniform rate for the state, and with the assistance of operators believe this can be done.

In conclusion Senor Sagasta says: "In my opinion the cortes will not meet, but if they do meet their existence is ephemeral." The liberal leader refuses to express himself regarding the relations between the United States and Spain.

LEAVE HART'S PLACE TO BE FILLED LATER

J. E. HEG SPEAKS OF THE WAU-KESHA

Present Superintendent of the Industrial School Will Hold His Position For a Month or So, and by That Time the Board Will Have Decided Upon His Successor.

President James E. Heg of the state board of control, has been interviewed as to Superintendent Hart's removal, and says the appointment of a new superintendent at the Waukesha industrial school will not be made for some time. No formal meeting will be held until September 27, and it is likely that the governor's letter of recommendation will not be considered until then. Mr. Hart will continue in charge of the school until his successor is elected, which may be a month or more.

In discussing the outcome of the investigation Mr. Heg talked very freely. He said that he was not in any way disposed to criticize the action of the governor. He and the other members of the board had talked with him concerning it on several occasions, and knew of his feelings in regard to the matter. Mr. Heg said that he had no doubt but the governor had acted in good faith, and had done what he felt to be his duty. As the entire matter had been left with the governor he did not think that there would be any hesitancy on the part of the board to carry out his recommendations, even though the individual members might have different views as to their justice so far as Mr. Hart was concerned.

Severe Punishments In Vogue.

"I feel sorry for Mr. Hart," said Mr. Heg, "for the reason that it means casting him out of his position with an unenviable stigma attached to him. He has tried his best to fill a position which is as difficult to fill as any in the state. Now as a matter of fact the case of Mr. Hart briefly stated is just this: When he took up the management of the Waukesha school he found a system of punishment in vogue with no very clearly defined rules to regulate it. It had been the custom for twenty years to punish boys with a horse-whip for disobeying the rules, for insubordination and other causes. Mr. Hart did not approve of this system of punishment. He thought it possible to curb the lads by humiliating them, and so the so-called 'barrel' punishment was devised. This was tried for a time, but did not work to the satisfaction of the superintendent. It was abolished more than a year ago by Mr. Hart of his own free will, and without consultation with the Board of Control. In its place punishment with a strap was substituted.

Employees Were Mischiefmakers.

"Mr. Hart took things as he found them and tried to make such improvements in methods as he thought would tend to the betterment of the boys under his charge. I know Mr. Hart well and have always found him to be a kind-hearted man. Furthermore, I can truthfully say that he has been more humane in the performance of the duties of his position than any superintendent that the school has ever had. The school is today in better condition from nearly every point of view than it was during any past administration. Mr. Hart has had much to contend against. He has had much trouble with some of the employees of the school. Many of them have been mischiefmakers and have caused no end of ill feeling. Of course, it must be admitted that Mr. Hart has made mistakes. He may have lost his temper with some of the boys, and at times been unnecessarily severe. But the fact should not be lost sight of that he has been dealing, not with innocent school boys, but with boys recruited from the worst walks of life, some of them of vicious temperaments and learned in every trick and contrivance of the criminal code."

The bicyclist's Best Friend" is a famous name for De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve, always ready for emergencies. While a specific for piles, it also instantly relieves and cures cuts, bruises, salt rheum, eczema and all affections of the skin. It never fails. O. D. Stevens.

NO SANCTION FOR THE FAIR

Chairman Jones of the Wisconsin division, L. A. W. Racing board writes The Sentinel as follows:

"The Walworth county fair which is held at Elkhorn, Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1, will run bicycle races, prizes of which are cash. They have not been sanctioned by the L. A. W. and riders riding in the same will receive the greatest penalty that can be made. A great many riders have been riding at fair races which have not been sanctioned and they will be suspended within the next week. They should be careful before riding, to see that the races have been sanctioned."

Encouragement For the Feeble.

So long as the failing embers of vitality are capable of being re-kindled into a warm and genial glow, just so long there is hope for the weak and emaciated invalid. Let him not therefore, despair, but derive encouragement from this, and from the further fact that this is a restorative most potent in renewing the dilapidated powers of a broken down system. Yes, thanks to its unexcelled tonic virtues, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is daily reviving strength in the bodies and hope in the minds of the feeble and nervous. Appetite, refreshing sleep, the acquisition of flesh and color, are blessings attendant upon the reparative process which the priceless invigorant speedily initiates and carries to a successful conclusion. Digestion is restored, the blood fertilized, and sustenance afforded to each life-sustaining organ by the Bitters, which is inoffensive even to the feminine palate, vegetable in composition, and thoroughly safe. Use it, and regain vigor!

The Mistake She Made.

At a party the hostess said to a guest: "I want you to entertain Mr. Blank a little. He looks bored to death. I will introduce him, and you must try to amuse him. You know his strong point is butter, on which he has written a book."

The lady guest graciously undertook the task of entertaining the man, inwardly wondering that he should be so interested in butter, of which she knew very little, when his face indicated a mind given to much profound thinking.

However, with butter in view, she began on the weather, gradually got to the country, then on to a farm, from that to cows and at last to butter. The man looked more bored than ever, the magic word "butter" producing not the slightest effect, and he left her somewhat abruptly and soon withdrew from the house.

"I did my best," she explained to the hostess. "I went through agonies to prove that I was deeply interested in butter, but it was all in vain."

"Butter!" exclaimed the hostess. "What possessed you to talk to that man of all men on butter? I told you he had just written a book on Buddha, and I knew how deeply you two were interested in the same subject."

And they said in chorus, "Gracious!"—Pearson's Weekly.

Moments are useless if trifled away; and they are dangerously wasted if consumed by delay in cases where One Minute Cough Cure would bring immediate relief. O. D. Stevens.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1789—New York city captured by the British.

1789—James Fenimore Cooper born at Burlington, N. J.

1794—John Witherspoon, eminent Presbyterian preacher and scholar, and "signer" for New Jersey, died near Princeton, N. J.; born in Scotland 1722.

1830—Opening of the Liverpool and Manchester railway, the first in England. Porfirio Diaz, Mexican soldier, statesman and president, born in Oaxaca.

1850—Disastrous inundation in Germany.

1862—Surrender of Harper's Ferry and death of the commander, Colonel Dixon H. Miles; the most important Union surrender of the war.

1892—Arrival of the steamer Bohemia at New York from Hamburg, reporting 11 deaths by cholera at sea.

SHE HAS LOST CUBA.

The truth begins to dawn on the Spanish mind, that Cuba is hopelessly lost to the mother country. Some of the Madrid papers are beginning to speak out on this point, and the others will hardly be silent much longer.

Many prominent papers in England, France, Germany and other European nations, weeks and months ago saw the folly of Spain's part of continuing the struggle any longer, and advised that government to abandon the island. Spain is proud, and her authorities know that a surrender would endanger the dynasty, yet if the surrender is not made this year it will have to be made next year or the year after. A prolongation of the contest will add to the losses in life and property, but can not alter the result in the slightest degree.

SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT.

Today's dispatches hold hope that the settlement which has been reached by the coal miners of Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania will soon extend itself to the rest of the region affected by the strike. In fact, this adjustment will bring pressure on both operators and miners in the other states which will force a compromise on somewhat similar conditions, and the only menacing labor disturbance which 1897 has known will be ended. The general public, as well as the parties directly concerned, will have cause to rejoice when the settlement is reached. It will remove the only obstruction in the way of a rapid and general business improvement.

It is charged that the tomb of Abraham Lincoln at Springfield is neglected by the authorities of Illinois. The once splendid monument is in a dilapidated condition, and some of the masonry threatens to fall down. Rain penetrates the roof, and has discolored the ceilings and walls. The wall leading to the tomb are out of repair, and when a visitor is taken inside he hears an apology for the numerous evidences of coming ruin.

Armed deputies are not legitimate factors in our administrative system. The remedy for the evil, however, is not in such resolutions as were adopted by labor leaders yesterday declaring that "the time has actually arrived when labor without the use of arms will be unable to combat with the hirelings of corporations."

The Philadelphia school authorities tested the pile of coal delivered at one of the school houses and found it thirteen tons short of the amount paid for. A similar shortage is reported at all the police stations, and it is believed to exist at all the public schools in the city.

Colonel William F. Cody would be a notable man were his ability to read the character of American Indians his only strength. But even the colonel cannot convince people that General Miles fights Indians as earnestly and successfully as he wears clothes.

Four large contracts have been made in this country for supplying trolley roads in great Britain. Our manufacturers of electric machinery have secured the world for their field of operations.

Austria takes a hand in the Hazelton affair. She says hot-headed deputies may shoot at the United States miners they like but that Austrian citizens must be protected.

Victim of the Newcastle Wreck.

Glenwood, Colo., Sept. 15.—J. B. Gunning of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is here looking for traces of his wife, who was a passenger on the ill-fated train which was wrecked near New Castle last Friday morning. She was to have met her husband at Ouray and her failure to arrive caused an investigation which makes it practically certain that she was one of the victims of the disaster.

Loyal to the Dreibund.

Buda-Pesth, Sept. 15.—It is announced that King Charles of Roumania will arrive here as the guest of Emperor Francis Joseph Sept. 27. His majesty's visit to this city was arranged by the sovereigns of the dreibund at Hamburg and is intended as a public demonstration of Roumania's adhesion to the dreibund.

TO CURE DYSPEPSIA.

A New Remedy Which Will Do It.

Chronic dyspepsia is considered by many people to be nearly if not quite incurable. No good reason can be given why they think so except that perhaps they have tried various remedies without much, if any benefit. But the progress in every branch of medicine has been such that among other things a lasting cure for indigestion in its chronic form as well as temporary has been discovered and is now placed before the public strictly on its merits as a permanent cure for all stomach troubles or difficulties with the digestive organs.

This new treatment is called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, being put up in tablet form so as to be easily taken and also to preserve its good qualities for an indefinite length of time.

This remedy has produced surprising effects in the worst forms of indigestion, and in many cases where ordinary remedies failed to give even relief, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have fully cured.

The splendid results from using this preparation are owing to the fact that it is prepared and intended for Dyspepsia and stomach troubles only. It is not a cure-all like so many advertised remedies claiming to cure everything under the sun, but it is claimed that it is a certain cure for Dyspepsia and anyone suffering from any form of indigestion cannot fail to get permanent relief and cure from its use.

It is so prepared and the ingredients are of such a nature that when the tablets are taken into the stomach they digest the food no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. You get sustenance and strength to mind and body by reason of the food being properly digested and at the same time the much abused stomach is allowed to rest and recuperate.

Notwithstanding the great benefits to be derived from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the price is but 50c for full sized package and all druggists sell them.

BETTER PRICES PAID ON ALL FARM STUFF

LOCAL MARKET QUOTATIONS ARE CHEERING.

Cabbages Are Beginning To Come Into Market, and Net Farmers $1 a Ton More Than Last Year—Potatoes More Than Double—Tomatoes Are Firm

Rock county farmers are getting good prices on everything they raised this year. Just now, however, deliveries are few. Three or four loads of cabbage were brought in this week, but the bulk of the deliveries will not be made until October. The price this year is somewhat in advance of that paid last year and farmers will realize much more from their crop. About forty-five cents a dozen is paid now and the price in large quantities is $5.50 a ton. This is a dollar a ton better than last year. The crop this year has been good but the acreage has not been as large, as farmers put their land to other uses, owing to the low price for this product.

Rock county does not compare with Brown and Outagamie counties on cabbages in the best of years. One large Green Bay commission house makes the shipping of cabbages a specialty.

Better Prices All Around.

Tomatoes have been brought into the Janesville market a little more freely the last few days, and the price has fallen. Grocers still pay fifty cents a bushel, however, while a year ago the price was 25 cents.

Onions are worth fifteen cents a bushel more this year than they were last in the local market. There have been a number of deliveries this week.

As for home grown potatoes, the few that are brought in sell for 50 cents a bushel. The crop is smaller than usual not only in this county but further north.

Tubers Scarce Elsewhere.

This is not the only state where the potato crop has fallen off. The acreage was reduced everywhere last spring owing to the low price at which the enormous crop of 1896 was marketed. Cold weather during the early spring, with rains in some localities retarded the growth of the potatoes. In addition to this the hot and dry weather of the last two weeks combined with the work of the bugs, has played havoc still further with the acreage and the total yield.

The last government report places the average condition of potatoes 66.7a or 11.7 points below the average for the last ten years. The effect of the hot and dry weather is indicated by the falling off of 11.2 points as compared with the condition of August 1. The estimate of the present condition is 16.5 points lower than on September 1, 1896.

Nebraska's shortage in the crop is estimated at from 70,000 to 300,000 bushels. The Michigan yield is estimated at 80 per cent. of last year. Illinois will raise half a crop, and the decrease in Wisconsin is placed at one-fourth.

UNSAVORY SIX IN COURT.

Judge Phelps Imposes Fines of $20 Apiece on Young Women.

Otis Walkley paid a $25 fine and Minnie Wheeler, Hattie Howard, Nell Lampere and Kit Sutherland paid fines of $20 and costs in the municipal court today. Theresa Jones pleaded not guilty and John H. Groesbeck was appointed to defend her. At 4:30 o'clock she was acquitted. The six were arrested in a disorderly house at the end of the Forest Park street car line by Chief Hogan and Officers Appleby and Cochrane at 12:30 last night.

Peter St. John, the self-confessed Evansville burglar, was today held for trial in $500 bail.

Chas. Burgess was arrested today on complaint of J. T. Waggoner who charges the defendant with assaulting Raymond Waggoner. Mr. Burgess pleaded not guilty this afternoon and the case was adjourned until Oct. 2.

WILL FIGHT AGAINST PAYING

Janesville Odd Fellows Associate With Those In Other Towns.

Janesville Odd Fellows will be joined by Odd Fellows in all the country from Beloit to Fort Atkinson in fighting the Fulton suits. An association has been formed and a test case will be tried thoroughly.

Assignee Fulton declares that since September 10 there has been paid him from fifty-seven members of the two lodges at Beaver Dam $766.65. Only twenty-two members had to be sued. About 100 members in all in Dodge county will be sued this week, before M. H. Umbreit, justice of the peace, and all are returnable September 24.

Janesville members say there is a vein of bluff in Mr. Fulton's statement. They are not willing to pay until the courts compel them.

WANT A JANESVILLE PLANT

Wisconsin Carriage Top Company Asked to Go to La Crosse.

There is danger that Janesville will lose the Wisconsin Carriage Top Company factory. A flattering proposition is being considered by the local firm for the removal of the factory to La Crosse.

Entirely unsolicited on the part of the local firm comes a proposition from La Crosse business men. The factory now operated by the Wallis Carriage Top Company, which plant cost $31,000 is offered as a location.

The Wallis company was removed to La Crosse from Clinton thirteen years ago.

For a stated space of time free rent will be granted the Janesville company if the plant is moved to La Crosse and a guarantee of orders for 1,500 buggies will also be signed.

Edward Wheeler, a prominent La Crosse banker, was in the city yesterday consulting William Morris and Fred Vandewater.

Members of the local firm are expected to visit La Crosse within two weeks and look over the ground.

R. W. KING BOOK STORE SOLD

Walter S. Field Is the New Owner and Has Taken Possession.

One of the best known stands in the city changed hands today, when R. W. King disposed of his West Milwaukee street book store to Walter S. Field. For thirty years Mr. King has conducted a news depot in this city, having succeeded his brother in business in 1867. Ten years earlier J. D. King laid the foundation for the present business by establishing a news stand in the post office on East Milwaukee street, where the United States Express office is now located. He moved with the post office to the block now occupied by N. B. Robinson & Co. Later the stand moved to what is now Smith's pharmacy.

Mr. King will for the present enjoy a well earned vacation. His successor is popular, energetic and well equipped for the book business, and a host of friends are assured of his success.

Dr. R. W. Edden is playing the part of patient. A board gave way in the stairs back of his West Milwaukee street office and he fell, fracturing one of the small bones of his left arm near the wrist. The injury, although painful, will not hinder him from attending to his business.

RAISE LOAD OF DEBT OFF FAIR GROUNDS

S. C. CARR OFFERS TO HELP WITH $100.

Well Known Milton Junction Farmer Urges Directors To See if Enough Men Cannot Be Found To Pay the Same Amount and Lift the Mortgage.

A proposition to redeem the fair grounds has been made by S. C. Carr of Milton Junction, to several of the local directors.

Estimating the debt of the agricultural society, including the charge for redeeming the grounds at $10,500, Mr. Carr offers to be one of the 105 to give $100 apiece and wipe out the debt. He believes that this is the most feasible way of clearing up the obligations, and believes there are enough who are anxious to see the fair grounds preserved, to make such a subscription possible.

"Few countries in the state have such excellent grounds," said Mr. Carr today, "and it would be a reproach on the county to have the property sacrificed. I should not be in favor of attempting any plan of reorganizing that did not contemplate the wiping out of a major part if not all of the debt. There is no use trying to start up again with a $6000 or $7000 handicap."

"There are many in the county who are anxious to see the fair grounds saved to the agricultural society. There ought to be many in Janesville who will appreciate the advantage of having grounds suitable for outdoor demonstrations and for race meetings, both of which bring the city a good many dollars in the course of a year. The grounds afford the best possible rallying point for country people and should not be closed."

LIKE GREEN POSTAGE STAMPS

Officials Decide To Change the Color of the 2-Cent Issue.

The secretary of the treasury and the postmaster general, after a consultation with the president, have decided to change the color of the current 2-cent postage stamp from carmine to green of the shade now used on government notes. The 10-cent postage stamp, which is now printed in green, will be changed to some other color, possibly carmine. It is thought that green is a more desirable color than carmine, besides saving the government about $10,000 in the difference in cost between the two inks.

WALL STREET CASE COMES UP TONIGHT

COMMON COUNCIL HOLDS AD- JOURNED SESSION.

No Attempt Will Be Made To Get Out an Injunction Until the Council Has Taken Action—Question as to the Legal Form of Proceedure.

The question of closing Wall street will come before the council at the adjourned meeting this evening.

No steps will be taken by those opposed to the plan, it is said, until after the council has decided.

It is very probable that an injunction will then be sought.

The grounds on which the protesting property owners put their case are that every property owner must sign in order to give the city power to close a thoroughfare. Friends of the new depot project believe on the other hand that the street may be closed under the general village act which requires all signatures of abutting property owners and the signatures of two-thirds of the entire property owners along the street.

Plans for the new depot have been received in the city and several local contractors have been asked for bids. The intention is to have the work done by a Janesville firm.

Judge—Then why did you, when this lady approached, leap through the window, jump into the cistern and hide yourself?

Prisoner—Your honor, I thought it was my wife.—N. Y. Truth.

Would Surrender.

"Papa, what would you do if some bad man with a great big revolver was to jump up in front of you some dark night when you didn't have anything to shoot with, and should point his revolver at you and should say: 'Your money or your life?'"

"I should do just as I do when mamma says: 'James, dear, I have to go down town this morning and buy a few things for the house. Let me have $35, please.' I should hand the money over. Don't get the idea that I am foolhardy, child."—Chicago Tribune.

Miss Emalie—Oh, I'm sorry for that. I wish you could stay over for another day at least. You know we are to give our performance of "Camille" to-morrow, with me in the title role.

Mr. Curtis (absently)—That's the reason I've got to go.—Cleveland Leader.

AN EGYPTIAN ELIXIR.

treasuring it for the preservation of our own lives through countless ages. And why not," he cried, his voice rising to a scream, as he turned fiercely to me, "why not for all eternity, for, in the long ages of existence that this will give us shall we not be able to discover the ingredients of which it is made and the manner in which it is concocted? Eternity! Eternity!" he screamed. "An eternity of life is ours!"

A cold, icy horror seized me. There could be no doubt of my companion's insanity. He was a raving maniac. The exciting events of the last few hours had been too much for his highly wrought nervous system. I was alone with him, far from human aid, and where no sound or cry of mine could reach the ear of man. To what extremity might not this insanity drive him? I was unarmed, and, though a stronger man than he, yet I knew that insanity lends a strength almost superhuman. There was nothing to do but to strive to appear calm and if possible quiet him.

"So you really think this must be the elixir of life?" I inquired calmly.

"Of course it is," he cried. "Do you suppose it will restore life to that carrion there after 30 centuries or more and not prolong the life of one already living? Yes, it is the true elixir, the true fountain of youth." Here his ravings became incoherent and so continued for some time.

"Well, it may be as you say, doctor," I said at length. "But let us first get this fellow fully resuscitated and get out of here as soon as we can. Heavens! Think what fame will be ours when we introduce to the world a living priest of the eighteenth dynasty!"

"Resuscitate that dog!" he screamed.

"Waste on him any more of the precious fluid which means thousands of years of life to us! No, no! Let him sleep as he has slept. All that a man has will be given for his life, and here is life, life, life—thousands of years of it!"

"Why should you have any of it?" he continued, casting a look of deep malignity upon me. "Why should you enjoy what you did not discover? You would never have suspected the true nature of the liquor. You would have wasted it all on that carcass there. No, no! You have no right to it. It is all mine. Millions of years of life, and all mine!"

"You are welcome to it all, doctor, if you wish it," I managed to say. "I am not enamored with life enough to desire to prolong it indefinitely. I am satisfied with my allotted length of days. But now let us get out of here if you do not wish to carry our experiment further."

"Very well, then," he cried. "It is all mine. Eternity is mine. I must begin upon it now, before I am a moment older. From this moment I become as one of the gods. I drink," he said, lifting the flask to his lips, "to immortality!" A bright green glare shot from the vase as he held it aloft.

Forgetful of danger I sprang forward to intercept his draft, fully believing that a medicine so powerful as we had found this to be would be fatal to a living man, and, determined to save my friend's life at whatever risk to my own, I leaped forward, snatched the flask from his hands and flung it far down one of the unexplored corridors. For an instant he stood as if thunder-struck.

Then with incredible quickness and without uttering a word he drew a stiletto from his breast, plunged it into my bosom and darted down the corridor. I fell fainting to the floor, but before I lost consciousness I heard a long, blood curdling scream, followed by a deathly silence, and I knew no more.

I returned to consciousness in the humble hut of a fellow near the scene of my explorations, whither I had been conveyed by my men, who had found me insensible in the thick darkness of the vaulted chamber. I had hovered for weeks between life and death, but the anxious care of a physician whom the Scientific society had sent me on hearing of my wound finally restored me to consciousness and life. No tidings of Dr. Bates had been received.

As soon as I was able I revisited the tomb. Of its former treasures not an atom remained. The wretched fellows, who are not permitted to sell any of the treasures of antiquity which they may discover, had taken all away to dismember them at their leisure, in order to sell the fragments surreptitiously to tourists. The body of the priest had disappeared with the other contents of the tomb.

Feebly and disconsolately I crawled along one of the corridors which seemed to me to be the one down which I had thrown the crystal vase. Suddenly my torchbearer, who was in advance, started back with a cry of horror. Advancing cautiously, I found myself looking down into a wide pit which was sunk perpendicularly in the center of the passage. I threw a pebble down it, but no sound of its fall returned to my ears from the thick blackness below.

As I turned, weary and sick at heart, my foot struck a soft object. It was a light felt hat. I knew it and its owner's fate.

The next day found me on my way to the dahabiah which was to take me down the Nile. After my litter had been placed on board, looking up at the bank I chanced to see a tall, majestic figure, richly clad in garments of strange and ancient fashion, gazing intently upon the boat, and, as it seemed, at me.

"Who is that man?" I asked my servant.

"He is a stranger, excellency, a newcomer. They call him Neffar. He is very wise, they say, very wise and very rich, but he talks little. Some say he has the evil eye, but I do not know." The dahabiah cast off from the shore and with a favoring breeze shot swiftly down the stream. As we swept downward I kept my eyes on the grand, imposing figure of the stranger as his gaze followed the boat until a bend in the river shut him from view.

"Strange," I said to the doctor at my side, "what hallucinations sick men have. Now I almost thought that!"

"Yes, they are strange," he replied.

THE END.

The Hard Trade of a King.

Turning first sods; laying foundation stones; opening bridges, hospitals, libraries, museums and other public buildings; christening and launching ships; assisting at bazaars; presiding at public meetings and dinners; organizing funds for benevolent purposes and attending to the proper administration of them; patronizing a multitude of institutions and enterprises and taking active interest in the management and development; preparing and delivering hundreds of speeches; receiving addresses and replying to them; reviewing troops and fleets; visiting hospitals; representing the nation on important occasions throughout Europe; entertaining foreign royal visitors; bearing in mind the birthday of every royal personage in Great Britain and on the continent and dispatching suitable congratulations; attending, officially and unofficially, balls, concerts and innumerable other entertainments; performing these many and varied duties with discretion, so as never to be associated with a failure, never to interfere, directly or indirectly, with any of the myriads of public and private interests and never to cause friction or to create animosity—if this by no means comprehensive catalogue of royal duties is not sufficient to excite pity, whatever will?—London Truth.

Western Forest Fires.

It is not generally known, says John Muir in The Atlantic, that, notwithstanding the immense quantities of timber cut every year for foreign and home markets and miners, from five to ten times as much is destroyed as is used, chiefly by running forest fires that only the federal government can stop. Travelers through the west in summer are not likely to forget the fire work displayed along the various railway tracks. Thoreau, when contemplating the destruction of the forests on the east side of the continent, said that soon the country would be so bald that every man would have to grow whiskers to hide its nakedness, but he thanked God that at least the sky was safe. Had he gone west he would have found out that the sky was not safe, for all through the summer months, over most of the mountain regions, the smoke of mill and forest fires is so thick and black that no sunbeam can pierce it. The whole sky, with clouds, sun, moon and stars, is simply blotted out. There is no real sky and no scenery. Not a mountain is left in the landscape; at least none is in sight from the lowlands, and they all might as well be on the moon as far as scenery is concerned.

Saratoga Women.

The Woman's Association For Greater Saratoga is one of the largest clubs of women in the country, with the smallest annual dues. It has 1,600 members, and the dues are 10 cents a year.

Any woman in Saratoga who will and can is asked to join and help the work along, this all for the benefit of the Greater Saratoga. The Greater Saratoga is to include all the region of the 50 springs in the valley, and the ultimate object of the women is to have the state of New York buy all these springs and to have them all free.

The annual dues are all put aside for this purpose, but every year they have one or two large entertainments, at which they raise generous sums of money, and these they give for any needed improvement around Saratoga. Recently they contributed $70 for bicycle paths. Mrs. Ellen Hardin Walworth, president of the Post Parliament club of New York, is president of the association—Woman's Journal.

A Remarkable Athlete.

A California girl, Miss Rowena Reed, has a remarkable record as an athlete. She is 19 years old, weighs 160 pounds and is 5 feet 8 1/2 inches tall. She rides, swims, fences, rows, wheels, runs and jumps. She can handle the Indian clubs and dumbbells, play football and basketball like a veteran and is an expert on the trapeze. In the games at Vassar she broke the world's woman's record for the running broad jump, clearing 13 feet 3 inches, won the 120 yard hurdle race and won the running high jump, clearing 3 feet 8 inches. She has just completed her sophomore year at Vassar.

She Ran a Trolley Car.

Miss Constance Ingalls, daughter of ex-Senator John J. Ingalls, always has had a notion that a woman could operate an electric car as well as a man, and to demonstrate it she secured a permit from Superintendent Bendure the other night and for a short time operated an electric car on Main street, Atchison, Kan. The Main street run is over a mile long, and, although the street is filled with carriages in the evening, says the Boston Journal, Miss Ingalls ran the car without a mishap. Her successful work as motorman is liberally complimented by her friends.

She Was a Pioneer.

Mrs. Charlotte Fowler Wells celebrated her eighty-third birthday Aug. 14 at her home in West Orange, N. J. She was the first woman in the country to teach phonology. She was an instructor in the American Institute of Phonology for many years. Feeling the need of rest last autumn, she transferred the work to her niece, Miss Jessie Allen Fowler. Mrs. Fowler is vice president of the American Institute of Phonology and is a member of the New York Sorosis. She has enjoyed good health almost continually.
